PART TWO Children's Act (2014)

A - Safety Checking

The Faculty of Health and Environmental Sciences requires all applicants applying for programmes responsible to the HPCA Act (2003) and/or Children's Act (2014), to declare any criminal or disciplinary charges they have faced, or are facing, and any health status issues which could affect their participation in clinical aspects of the programme or their overall fitness to practice.

This process may also be activated at paper enrolment level when students are undertaking study or experience that involves working with the public.

Children's Act (2014) Safety Checking Form

The Children's Act (2014) requires that all people who work or are likely to work with children must be safety checked. The University is obliged to safety check students for all clinical health professional training programmes.

In order to assess your safety under the Children's Act (2014), we need you to complete all the following questions.

The information you provide will be kept securely, with access strictly controlled and limited to those who are entitled to see it as part of their duties. The Children's Act (2014) also requires a stringent Police Vetting.
