

Student Welcome Package

The team would like to welcome you to [REDACTED]. We look forward to working with you and getting to know you better. We hope your time with us will be a challenging and rewarding learning experience.

On your arrival you will be allocated a preceptor. This is the person you will work with most frequently during your time at [REDACTED], and will be the best source for information while you are with us. Feel free to ask questions of your preceptor and co-workers. You will also be introduced to the clinical coaches during your first week. The coaches are available to help you out with any clinical questions you may have.
