“I chose to study at AUT because AUT is known for having one of the best student support systems, meaning you can confidently get help, whether it’s related to academic, health or wellbeing support. I liked that AUT is a university with a significant number of academic staff who are ready to transfer their years of cultivated knowledge to me. The classes at AUT are highly interactive and informative. I also appreciated that AUT is located in the heart of Auckland, the biggest city in New Zealand, where the opportunities lie.”

“I appreciated that at AUT every lecture was supported by a tutorial session where students could instantly practise what they learned in their lectures. I also had many lecturers who helped me overcome any difficulties I faced in my first year in New Zealand and achieve good academic results. AUT always adequately provided us with contemporary facilities and software to best support our studies. Taking part in club activities and attending workshops organised by AUT also made me feel more comfortable about communicating with new people here.”

“I had previously fallen in love with New Zealand due to its nature and friendly people. I chose AUT because I wanted to have great flexibility and choice throughout my degree. The workplace experience also really attracted me to AUT. There are so many opportunities at AUT, whether it’s the Young Sustainable Leadership programme, strategy competitions or joining the university outdoor club to go hiking somewhere in New Zealand. I’m also just finishing my AUT Edge Award, which is a great way to stand out to employers. AUT’s Employability Lab is a great way to get help in becoming more employable.”

CULTURE & SOCIETY

• Education
• Hospitality, Tourism & Events

• Social Sciences & Public Policy

AUT’s Faculty of Culture and Society offers a wide range of programmes in education, hospitality and tourism, language and culture, and social sciences and public policy. Study with us and you will learn from world-class academic staff who are passionate about their subject areas. Many of them are widely known for their expertise, and our strong research focus can be seen in the outstanding reputation of our various research institutes and centres.

We’re proud of our world-leading programmes. University rankings organisation QS has ranked us first in New Zealand and in the world’s top 100 for our hospitality and leisure programmes, and Times Higher Education places us in the top 300 globally for education. Our tourism programmes are accredited by the United Nations World Tourism Organization (UNWTO) for higher tourism education, training and research programmes.

“AUT has great academic staff and resources in its tourism programmes. Studying tourism will literally open up the world for you – it will lead to a career where you can both travel and work at the same time! I really enjoyed meeting new people and experiencing a new culture in such a beautiful country, and meeting good friends from around the world. My advice for other international students is to make the most of your time in New Zealand. Travel and enjoy the beauty of New Zealand while you can.”

Rahmawati Taqwa
Indonesia
Master of International Tourism Management

“What I enjoyed most about studying at AUT were the smaller classes, and being able to connect with likeminded individuals who share the same passion for human rights. I feel that I received a more personalised learning experience, and my voice and opinions were heard and appreciated. At first, I had to adjust to a new lifestyle, new grading system and programme style while also building a new support system in New Zealand, all during a global health pandemic. The support and advice I’ve received from AUT’s Student Hub and my lecturers helped me tremendously with this.”

Briana Nezbah Edmo
USA
Master of Human Rights

“AUT has one of the top culinary arts programmes in New Zealand and is ranked in the top 100 universities in the world for its hospitality and leisure management programmes. This means that you know you’re learning from the best in the region. Meeting new people from diverse backgrounds doing the same programme has given me insight into many different aspects related to our shared interest in making food. The range of support AUT offers to students is vast, so take time to learn about them to find out which ones will suit your learning style best.”

At AUT’s Faculty of Design and Creative Technologies collaboration and partnership are at the heart of everything we do, and we’re connected to an extraordinary range of organisations worldwide. Our teaching and research staff are among the best in New Zealand and internationally, and our outstanding facilities include an industry-standard screen and TV studio, a radio station, digital textile machines, an art gallery and one of only two motion capture facilities in New Zealand.

Our programmes are world-class. University rankings organisation QS places us in the top 200 in the world for our art and design, and top 250 globally for our communication studies programmes. Engineering New Zealand recognises our Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) as meeting the Washington Accord and the Bachelor of Engineering Technology as meeting the Sydney Accord. IT Professionals NZ (ITPNZ) also recognises our Bachelor of Computer and Information Sciences as meeting the Seoul Accord.

“AUT is a university that provides a high standard of education and research programmes, and equips students with the skills for a successful career. I also appreciated the support available at AUT. Even during the unpredictable times due to the global COVID-19 pandemic, AUT offered assistance to help students continue their education without any obstacles. The syllabus of AUT’s Master of IT Project Management is designed very smartly. Because it’s a one-year programme that includes a research project, it will help you deep dive into project management frameworks to accommodate current market trends.”

Pallavi Roy
India
Master of IT Project Management

“I believe AUT combines academic studies and industry knowledge well. Students learn not only about the theory, but can also apply their knowledge to meet industry requirements. In my first semester, my supervisor organised a lecture where he invited his friend, an experienced software architect, who shared his findings about an innovative approach to software architecture. I was attracted by this new approach and was the chosen candidate for this research project. I was also fortunate to receive a $25,000 Callaghan Innovation Scholarship to support my research, and have since been hired by the company the software architect works for.”

Xingbin (Rosman) Cheng
China
Master of Computer and Information Sciences

“A good university is a great place to build strong relationships with your lecturers and classmates. Through my studies, I built friendships with people from all over the world who are now in different communications roles and companies. When I first came to AUT I didn’t have a specialisation and took a wide variety of classes. For the sake of curiosity I took my first PR class, and was so impressed by the breadth of knowledge of our lecturer; her charisma and her wit. I found her inspiring and then switched all my courses to PR after that.”

Postgraduate Diploma in Communication Studies
AUT’s Faculty of Health and Environmental Sciences offers world-class programmes and research across the disciplines of health, sport and science. We’re New Zealand’s largest health education provider, and across all of our programmes there’s an emphasis on industry connections and workplace experience. Depending on your programme you could treat real patients in one of our on-campus clinics, get clinical experience in a hospital or other health organisation, collaborate on scientific research with one of our industry partners, or work with elite athletes at AUT Millennium, our world-class sport research and performance facility.

Our programmes are well regarded by employers and highly rated for their quality. University rankings organisation QS has ranked us 41st in the world for our sports programmes. The Shanghai Ranking (Academic Ranking of World Universities) also ranks us first in New Zealand and 39th in the world for sport, in the top 200 globally for clinical medicine and in the world’s top 300 for public health.

“I chose AUT because reading about the physiotherapy programme on the AUT website really drew my attention, and AUT seemed very welcoming and inclusive. That was important to me as an international student. At AUT, there are many opportunities to build relationships with people and support services in place to help you in times of need. AUT always strives to be inclusive and ensures that every student and staff member feels culturally, socially, mentally and physically safe. Most services are free or low-cost for students, which is really helpful. The lecturers are also always willing to give and receive feedback, and are never opposed to positive change.”

Sara Al-Harrasi

“As an international student, I immediately felt at home at AUT. The lecturers were all professional but friendly at the same time. I liked that AUT has a more practical approach and the learning environment was comfortable, with a lot of services provided for students. Because AUT is located in the City Centre it was also easy to become involved with the various events in Auckland, which enriched my spare time. I also appreciated all the opportunities I was given at AUT – I felt recognised as a student.”

Postgraduate programmes

Entry requirements for AUT postgraduate programmes vary. You can find specific entry requirements on the programme page for your chosen programme on our website aut.ac.nz.

Recognition of prior learning

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) is credit granted towards your AUT programme from previous tertiary studies or through life or work experience. If you have already completed some university study related to the AUT programme you want to apply for, you may be able to apply for recognition of prior learning and get cross-credits towards your AUT qualification. There is a cost to apply for recognition of prior learning. To find out more visit aut.ac.nz/rpl.
ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

All AUT programmes are taught and examined in English. If English is not your first language, you will need to show that you meet the minimum English language proficiency to complete your AUT qualification.

You can use your official results for one of the following English language tests to meet the English language requirements. Test results are valid for up to two years.

The standard English language entry requirements are set out on the following pages. Some AUT programmes have higher English language requirements than the ones below. Refer to the AUT website for English language requirements for your chosen programme.

To find out more visit aut.ac.nz/englishlanguage

IELTS (Academic)
IELTS is the preferred English test for AUT qualifications. Due to professional registration requirements, IELTS is also the required English test for most health science degrees.

The New Zealand Teaching Council has specific English language requirements for initial teacher education programmes. Some programmes have higher requirements than the ones listed below.

Doctoral degrees
IELTS 6.5 overall with 7.0* in Writing and all other bands 6.0 or higher
*Engineering, Computer and Mathematical Sciences only require a 6.5 Writing Band

Other postgraduate programmes
IELTS 6.5 overall with all bands 6.0 or higher

Graduate diplomas, graduate certificates and conjoint programmes
IELTS 6.5 overall with all bands 6.0 or higher

Bachelor’s degrees
IELTS 6.0 overall with all bands 5.5 or higher

Diplomas and certificates
Depending on the particular programme, either IELTS 6.0 overall with all bands 5.5 or higher; or 5.5 overall with all bands 5.0 or higher

Qualifications taught and assessed in English
You can use the official results of an academic qualification completed in a country where English is the main language:
- Must have been taught and assessed in English - evidence is required
- Must be at an appropriate level

International students at NZ secondary schools
If you’re gaining University Entrance (UE) through NCEA, IB or CIE, you must meet the UE literacy requirements. You can’t replace the literacy requirements with an English language test result such as IELTS. Some AUT programmes have language requirements higher than UE literacy.

Other recognised English language tests
Use the following table to see what you need to meet the English language requirements.
Test results are valid for up to two years. Other recognised tests of English language proficiency may be accepted on a case-by-case basis as agreed by AUT.

PATHWAYS TO DEGREE STUDY FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Foundation programmes
If your secondary school qualifications don’t meet academic entry requirements for undergraduate study, then a foundation programme may be an alternative pathway.
Foundation studies help students successfully transition into university degrees. They focus on providing students with the knowledge, skills and confidence to excel in their degree of choice.
AUT guarantees entry from two partner institutions:

AUT Certificate in Foundation Studies taught by UP Education
This course is delivered by UP International College, which has one of the best New Zealand records in international education.
The curriculum includes essential training in English and independent learning skills. You can choose from a range of subjects, and can use AUT facilities while you’re studying at UP.

Pathway programmes

International Year One (IYOne)
The IYOne is a credit-bearing qualification that enables you to study the first year of an undergraduate degree at an NCUK Study Centre. Once you have successfully completed the IYOne, you can enter the second year of a number of AUT bachelor’s degrees.
Choose from:
- International Year One in Business
- International Year One in Engineering

The Pre-Master’s Programme (PMP)
The PMP will provide you with the research skills and the English language knowledge you need to succeed in a postgraduate qualification at AUT.

Partnership programmes
Alternatively, AUT offers a range of options for students who prefer to begin their university journey offshore in their home country, and then transition to AUT to complete their programme in New Zealand.
We have a wide range of partnerships globally. If you’re interested in finding out more about this option email international@aut.ac.nz

“The Diploma in Business is a great introductory programme that enables you to explore all the areas business has to offer. It’s a great programme for those who want to learn a bit more about business and what it actually means to do a business degree. The programme has made me feel much more confident in the world of business. I hadn’t done business in high school but I now feel prepared to study a bachelor’s degree and to have discussions about economics, consumer behaviour and finance.”
Camila Roa-Nunez
Bachelor of Business in Marketing
Diploma in Business

You can also start your studies at AUT with a certificate or diploma programme if you don’t meet the entry requirements for your chosen bachelor’s degree. Certificates and diplomas often share some courses with relevant bachelor’s degrees, and can serve as a pathway into your chosen degree.

“My goal is to help design, plan and carry out innovative construction projects that can be beneficial to the economy while being safe and sustainable. I’d like to replace any old and shabby buildings with new and innovative ones while ensuring that the limited resources we have are used in the most efficient way possible. The variety of courses I’m studying helps broaden my understanding of the engineering world and by collaborating with my classmates on tasks we learn a lot from each other.”

Junior Timothy Doedoke
Solomon Islands

New Zealand student visa
One of the most important steps is to get your student visa organised before you reach New Zealand. Without a valid visa and medical/travel insurance it’s unlawful to study in New Zealand.
To find out more visit immigration.govt.nz or studyinnewzealand.govt.nz/how-to-apply/visas

Medical and travel insurance
The New Zealand Government requires all international students to have appropriate insurance. Most international students are not entitled to publicly funded health services while in New Zealand. If you receive medical treatment during your visit, you may be liable for the full costs of the treatment. That is why it is so important that you have medical and travel insurance while studying at AUT.
To make it easy, we include AUT’s default medical insurance, the Studentsafe Inbound University plan, as part of your Offer of Place. However, you don’t have to accept the AUT insurance policy, and can choose an alternative from an approved provider on our website.
To find out more visit aut.ac.nz/international/insurance

Living costs
If you are coming to New Zealand on a student visa, Immigration New Zealand currently requires you to have enough funds to cover a return ticket home. You will also need to have enough money to adequately cover your living costs. Living costs can vary considerably depending on your lifestyle.
To find out more visit studyinnewzealand.govt.nz/live-work/cost-of-living

Working in New Zealand
As an international student you may be eligible to work part-time during the academic year and full-time during scheduled vacations.
