

Master of International Hospitality Management AK1058

Graduate Profile for the Master of International Hospitality Management

A graduate of the Master of International Hospitality Management will be able to:

- a. Apply advanced theoretical concepts and frameworks to the investigation of hospitality practice. (Inquiry/Research/Creativity; Skills/Application)
- b. Critically analyse and synthesise information from a range of sources. (Inquiry/Research/Creativity)
- c. Demonstrate advanced knowledge and understanding of hospitality management. (Knowledge/Understanding)
- d. Work independently and in groups to solve problems and develop understanding of critical issues in hospitality management. (Personal/Intellectual Autonomy; Communication; Inquiry/Research/Creativity)
- e. Undertake continuous learning and reflection. (Personal/Intellectual Autonomy)
- f. Research, analyse and draw conclusions from evidence-based inquiry and evaluation. (Inquiry/Research/Creativity)
- g. Plan, execute and complete a research project. (Inquiry/Research/Creativity)
- h. Communicate professionally and effectively to relevant audiences. (Communication)
- i. Demonstrate a sensitive approach to equity issues, including gender, culture, age and ethnicity, and consider their implications for research and industry. (Ethical/Professional Dispositions)
- j. Demonstrate an understanding of research ethics, or an awareness of professional practice and standards of behaviour relevant to the hospitality industry, based on personal and industry codes of ethics. (Ethical/Professional Dispositions)