Project Title

Te vaerua kopu tangata ora: Application of a Pacific model of palliative care

Kia orana

You are invited to participate in a research study on a model of palliative care for Cook Islanders in New Zealand. This study is funded by the Health Research Council of New Zealand (HRC). This study is being conducted by Dr Amy Henry (Cowan, Puati families Rarotonga, Vainerere family Atiu) from the Auckland University of Technology (AUT), New Zealand. Other research team members include.

Dr Amy Henry	Co-ordinating Investigator	AUT
Professor El-Shadan Tautolo	Co-investigator	AUT
Dr Aumea Herman	Co-investigator	University of Auckland
Associate Professor Jan Dewar	Co-investigator	AUT
Dr Ioana Mulpola	Co-investigator	AUT
Mayor Pokino	Research assistant	AUT
Master's student TBC		AUT

What is palliative care?

Palliative care is focused on improving the quality of life for people with life limiting illness. It's not about curing the illness itself, but rather about managing symptoms, reducing pain, and providing emotional, social, and spiritual support to the patient and their family.

What is the purpose of this research?

The purpose of this research is to develop the Cook Islands-based palliative care model, Te vaerua kopu tangata ora (the wellness of the family spirit), and to see how this model can be used to care for adults requiring palliative care. The hope is by developing this model and using it in the clinical setting, adult palliative care services will be better equipped and more accessible to Cook Islands families and the wider Pacific community.

(15-30) community members will participate in this study

(10) clinicians who work in palliative care will participate in this study

How was I identified and why am I being invited to participate in this research?

You are invited to be part of this study as you have been identified (by another community member) or have identified yourself as someone who has an interest in improving health services for Cook Islands families, have an interest or experience in caring for an unwell family member. And are willing to share the knowledge/experience in a group setting. To participate in this study, you must be

- 18 years of age or over
- Of Cook Islands heritage
- Reside in Auckland

How do I agree to participate in this research?

If you agree to take part in this study, you will be asked to sign the Consent Form on the last page of this document. You will be given a copy of this information sheet and the Consent Form to keep. To ensure no conflict of interest or bias, we kindly ask that close relatives of the research team do not participate in this study

Your participation in this research is voluntary (it is your choice) and whether you choose to participate will neither advantage nor disadvantage you. You can withdraw from the study at any time by informing the Researcher. If you choose to withdraw from the study, then information collected up until your withdrawal from the study will continue to be used and included in the study to protect its quality and the context of the group conversation.

What will my participation involve?

Being part of this study involves taking part in one or two group interviews, each group interview will be 60 to 90 minutes long. There will be between 4-6 participants in each group interview. All participants will be 18 years old or over. The groups will be determined by location. We'll do our best to hold the focus group in a location as close to you as possible, to make it convenient for you to attend. Locations will include South Auckland – Otara Hall. West Auckland – location to be advised.

The first interview (between 60-90 mins) will focus on discussing the proposed model of care for palliative care, as well as exploring cultural and community perspectives on the model. You will be invited to share your insights, experiences, and suggestions to help shape and improve the model. Key findings from these meetings will be presented to palliative health clinicians.

The second interview (between 60-90 mins) is optional and will provide an opportunity for the you as a community member to review and refine the model further. During this session, key findings from interviews with clinicians will be presented back to the community group, and you will be asked to reflect on this information and provide additional feedback to ensure the model aligns with community needs and values.

Your input will play a vital role in developing a community-informed model of care. Participation in the second interview is entirely voluntary, and you can choose to attend only the first session if you prefer. The total time commitment if you choose to attend both sessions will be between 2-3hours. If you would like to participate in both sessions, you will have to agree to the research team keeping your contact details to invite you to the next interview.

What are the benefits?

Participating in this study offers the opportunity to contribute your unique perspectives and experiences, helping to shape a Cook Islands community-informed model of palliative care. Your input will ensure that the care model reflects the needs and values of the community, potentially improving care outcomes for individuals and families in the future. This research will contribute to a better understanding of palliative care. The findings may help researchers improve knowledge and clinical practice in the field of palliative care. The research will contribute towards the completion of a model, publication, a research fellowship and the completion of a master's degree.

What are the costs?

There are no costs for you to participate in this research. You will receive a $50 supermarket voucher as an acknowledgement of your contribution. A meal will also be provided at each interview.

Will the results of the study be published?

The results of this research may be published in peer-reviewed, academic journals. Part of the research results will be published as part of a master's thesis. This thesis will be available to the general public through the AUT library. Results will also be presented during conferences or seminars to wider professional and academic communities. You will not be identifiable in any publication.

What are the discomforts and risks?

During the interview there is a risk that the interview may trigger an emotional response, you are welcome to bring a family member or support person with you to the interview. If at any point you wish to stop the interview recording will stop and support will be offered.

How will these discomforts and risks be alleviated?

If being part of this study causes an emotional response and you believe, or the researcher believes support would be beneficial to you then the following services are available.

AUT Student Counselling and Mental Health is able to offer three free sessions of confidential counselling support for adult participants in an AUT research project. These sessions are only available for issues that have arisen directly as a result of participation in the research and are not for other general counselling needs. To access these services, you will need to:

- drop into our centre at WB203 City Campus, email counselling@aut.ac.nz or call (09) 921 9292.
- let the receptionist know that you are a research participant and provide the title of the research and the name and contact details as given in this Information Sheet.

You can find out more information about AUT counsellors and counselling on <https://www.aut.ac.nz/student-life/student-support/counselling-and-mental-health>

Other services that may be useful

- Support services may be available to you if you or your family have recently received services from hospice. The co-ordinating researcher (Amy) will guide you in what services may be available to you.
- Text to talk 1737 (free phone counselling)
- Lifeline 5433 5463 (24/7 free helpline)

What will happen to information about me?

All information collected will be de-identified. Your real name will not be used. To make sure your personal information is kept confidential, information that identifies you or your family will not be included in any report by the researcher.

During the study, study-specific source documents will be maintained on REDCap. After the study information will be kept on AUT OneDrive cloud file only accessible to the research team. Study data will be kept for 6 years. Any transcription or translation service used to transcribe will sign a confidentiality agreement prior to transcribing.

What information will be collected?

- Interview audio recordings
- Demographic data (ethnicity, gender, age etc)

Who will have access to your recorded interview

- The research team listed above

New Zealand Māori data sovereignty

Māori data sovereignty is about protecting information or knowledge that is about (or comes from) Māori people. We recognise the taonga of the data collected for this study. To help protect this taonga:

- We have consulted with the Mātauranga Māori committee AUT about the collection, ownership, and use of study data.
- We allow Māori organisations to access de-identified study data, for uses that may benefit Māori.

What opportunity do I have to consider this invitation?

You are free to take as much time as needed to decide if you want to participate. The group interviews will be scheduled two weeks in advance, and you can decide which time suits you.

Will I receive feedback on the results of this research?

You will receive a summary of the research at the end of the study. You will be invited to join a presentation of the study findings once the study results are known, this is likely to be in 2028.

What do I do if I have concerns about this research?

Any concerns regarding the nature of this project should be notified in the first instance to the Project lead, Dr Amy Henry, amy.henry@aut.ac.nz, 09 921 9999 ext 31824

Concerns regarding the conduct of the research should be notified to the Executive Secretary of AUTEC, ethics@aut.ac.nz, (+649) 921 9999 ext 6038.

Who do I contact for further information about this research?

Please keep this Information Sheet and a copy of the Consent Form for your future reference. You are also able to contact the research team as follows:
