Welcome to Social Sciences & Public Policy

Warmest greetings to you all from the School of Social Sciences and Public Policy. Nau mai haere mai, warm Pacific greetings.

Studying social sciences and public policy equips you for future careers in business, professional life, public service, and the not-for-profit and community sector. Social sciences is about people, how they interact with each other at home, at play, in workplaces, in communities and in society. Public policy deals with priority setting by governments, public and private sector agencies and communities. It influences how we live. These two inter-connected fields of study embrace different cultural perspectives and cover the economy, employment, the environment, cities and rural areas, social, cultural and political organisations at national and regional levels.

We welcome you and hope you have a rewarding, stimulating and fun student experience with us.

1 AUT is New Zealand's fastest growing university, and 9 out of 10 AUT graduates recommend us as a great place to study 2 & 3 We're proud of our interactive, collaborative learning environment

Prepared to make a difference

It's not hard to quantify how important the social sciences are. They help countries make informed decisions and businesses act in ethical ways, and ensure that human rights are advocated for. An understanding of human behaviour and our complex social networks gives you a strong foundation for meaningful careers where you can really make a difference, including in government, charities and non-governmental organisations in New Zealand and around the world. Studying social sciences will also equip you with the critical thinking, communication and problem-solving skills that are in high demand by employers around the world, no matter where your future career may take you.

Innovative and open-minded learning

If you want a university with future-focused teaching, an engaging learning environment that embraces people and ideas, and programmes designed for rewarding careers – then welcome to AUT. Join us and you study at a modern and innovative university, with plenty of opportunities to collaborate with your classmates, debate and apply your knowledge to find innovative solutions. This collaborative approach creates a close-knit, supportive environment, and for many of our students it's the highlight of their studies. It's one of many reasons why 9 out of 10 AUT graduates recommend us as a great place to study.

Passionate and experienced staff

You benefit from the expertise of highly experienced and supportive staff who constantly draw on their own experience and research to inform their teaching. They have expertise in a wide range of areas, including children and youth, community development, conflict resolution, criminology, discrimination issues, human rights, psychology, public policy, refugee policy, social justice, sociology and women's rights. Many of our academic staff are actively involved in their professional fields, and we often invite industry experts to come in and share their knowledge with you.

Workplace experience during your degree

Study with us and you not only learn academic knowledge related to your discipline but also gain valuable experience of the wider world. Workplace experience is at the heart of our Bachelor of Arts, and thanks to our ever deepening industry connections there are opportunities with a vast number of host organisations for your final-year placement. Many of our students are also offered jobs during their placements.

Valuable international experience

Gain valuable international experience as part of your degree and spend a semester or even a year at Malmö University in Sweden, Leeds Beckett University in the UK or Ryerson University in Canada. Students who have been on a student exchange often find it changes their lives.

University life

As an AUT student you study at a modern and innovative university, and have the chance to meet new people and develop lifelong skills, while getting the support you need to succeed at university and beyond.

At AUT, we celebrate diversity. Our students come from more than 140 different countries, and we have the second largest number of international students of New Zealand's universities. Join us, and you'll quickly learn how inclusive and caring our community is.

We offer some of the most comprehensive student support services in New Zealand, including:

- Orientation for all new students
- Student Hub – with dedicated advisors to help with any issue
- Accommodation on campus
- AuSM – AUT student association and clubs
- International student support
- Sport and fitness centres
- Childcare centres
- Māori student support
- Pacific student support
- Chinese-speaking student support
- Disability student support and resources
- Employability and careers support
- Student medical centres
- Counselling and mental health services
- IT support and computer labs
- Library and student learning services
- Rainbow community network and resources
- Student financial services and scholarships office

Creating career-ready graduates

The AUT Employability and Careers team helps you plan in advance for your future career by developing job search and interview skills, while building your personal brand and networking skills. We'll also introduce you to employers looking to recruit AUT graduates.

Gain an edge on the competition

The AUT Edge Award challenges, rewards and formally acknowledges the 'C skills' – collaboration, co-operation, community, curiosity, communication and creativity – gained through your volunteering, leadership and employability activities.

International study opportunities

An international student exchange offers an amazing opportunity to study overseas as part of your degree. Study for a semester or a year at one of our partner universities around the world, and immerse yourself in another culture, make lifelong friends and get international experience before you graduate.

Helping you succeed

Our library and learning support team offers a wide range of services and resources, including access to an extensive collection of print and online databases, as well as workshops to help you get a head start on your studies. Drop in any time, we're happy to help any way we can.

Easy to get help

The AUT Student Hub is the place to go for help. Located on each campus, the Student Hub provides a range of services, from academic or personal advice to questions about fees and support for our diverse student communities.

Support for first-year students

Studying at university can be quite an adjustment.

That's why AUT is proactive in helping you transition to university life. From Orientation to our peer mentoring programme where senior students share their experience with you, our student support services make a huge difference to life as a first-year student.

Top internships around the world

A good internship can be the foundation of a great career. That's why AUT Internz places students and graduates with top companies in NZ, Canada and the USA – including Facebook, Paramount Recording Studios, the Sundance Institute, Oxfam, the Metropolitan Museum and Westpac Institutional Bank in New York.

A launchpad for entrepreneurs

Every entrepreneur starts somewhere. At AUT, the best place for aspiring entrepreneurs is CO.STARTERS@AUT. This nine-week programme helps you turn your entrepreneurial ideas into a viable business.

An outstanding learning environment

At AUT you study in an innovative and interactive environment that embraces creativity, collaboration and the sharing of ideas and culture. A number of our buildings have won prestigious architecture awards, and we're constantly improving our built environment to offer students the best possible learning experience.

Daniel Beetham

3rd-year student, Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences

"After secondary school, I started my career in the New Zealand Army as an electronic technician, and was deployed to Timor Leste. I've travelled extensively, including across much of Latin America, Asia, New Zealand and Australia, and had a successful IT career in Melbourne. I then decided to move back to Auckland to study. I would love to be involved in public policy as a policy analyst, and I like thinking about the bigger picture questions. Why do we do the things we do in society? What are the differences between societies? How can we make our society better? The AUT lecturers have a wealth of knowledge, and it's a great environment for questioning everything. I also enjoy having the opportunity to explore your own thinking, and that of others. I would definitely recommend this degree."

Do you enjoy learning about people and places at an individual, national or international level? Want to learn how to use this knowledge to make a difference in our increasingly globalised society? With the AUT Bachelor of Arts you can choose from majors in areas as diverse as languages, criminology, psychology, event management and education. It's great preparation for a huge range of careers, and you can build your degree in a way that suits you – study a single or a double major, select from a wide range of minors or add elective papers from another area of study. Throughout your study you'll develop effective communication, critical thinking and analysis skills, as well as the ability to research and present professionally. These skills are key to any professional role. Your final year includes valuable workplace experience, working on a project or event, or at an organisation related to your chosen major.

What this qualification covers

Year 1 & 2

You take core papers depending on your major, including writing, communication, research, and culture and society, along with your major(s) and minor papers.

Year 3

Your final semester includes workplace experience, working on a project/event or at an organisation related to your chosen major. In Year 3, you also study any remaining major or minor papers as well as electives.

Double your career options – study the Bachelor of Arts and:

- Bachelor of Business (conjoint)
- Bachelor of Computer and Information Sciences (conjoint)
- Bachelor of Laws (double degrees)

Today, standing out from the crowd is more important than ever. Conjoint programmes, double degrees and second majors double your knowledge and opportunities, but don't take double the time to complete.

Conjoint programme

You study two degrees at the same time in a single programme of study. It's usually possible to complete two three-year degrees in four to five years. You need to maintain a B grade average across all papers and do papers from each degree every year.

Double degrees

The difference between double degrees and conjoint programmes is that in the double degrees you apply for and enrol separately in each of the two degrees. If you're considering doing this, it's important that you contact AUT to discuss your plans. Double degrees can be completed either one after the other or concurrently.

Second majors and minors

When you take a second major from the majors available in your degree this is called a double major. If you take the second major from another AUT degree this is called an additional major. Minors are also available in these and some other subjects. Adding a second major or a minor allows you to study another area that interests you from a wide range of subjects, so long as your timetable permits.

AUT encourages early application. Places are limited.

Olivia Dyet

Employment Relations Business Partner,
The Warehouse Group
Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Bachelor of Business in Management conjoint programmes

"I've always been really interested in people and why they do what they do, so psychology was an obvious choice for me. AUT has a reputation for providing students with real-life experience and preparing them well for the workplace. For me that was a key reason for choosing AUT. I've been with The Warehouse Group for a couple of years now. Initially, I was a people support advisor for Noel Leeming, which is part of The Warehouse Group. Then I was lucky enough to get the opportunity in an area of human resources that I'm absolutely passionate about – employment relations. I think my degrees were invaluable and really set me up with a great understanding of how the 'real world' works."

Bachelor of Arts Conflict Resolution

Conflict resolution is an essential skill for many fields. Wherever there are people, companies or states, there are differences. Conflict resolution explores how to overcome these differences and reach a peaceful settlement at an interpersonal, community, organisational and international level.

You identify causes of conflict, and develop practical negotiation, mediation and facilitation skills. You learn through case studies, role play scenarios and visits from guest speakers who share their views on current issues and approaches. Our passionate lecturers draw from international experiences and include best practice models. Papers cover multidisciplinary perspectives on conflict resolution and a wide range of examples including the Treaty of Waitangi.

What this major covers

Core papers

All students complete Bachelor of Arts (BA) core papers. Students in this major need to include:

Jon Stagg

Liability Adjuster, Casualty & Professional Services Ltd
Bachelor of Arts in Conflict Resolution

"I initially decided to study conflict resolution because I was interested in international diplomacy and current affairs. It's still a possibility that I will move into that area in the future, however during my time at AUT I found a greater sense of satisfaction in assisting individuals with issues like family and work relationships. There are so many careers a degree in conflict resolution can lead to.

"In my role now, I handle major and complex liability insurance claims. This includes determining the cause of an event, assessing the extent and nature of the damage, applying the terms of the relevant policy to the circumstances, negotiating settlements and pursuing recovery of losses against responsible parties. This work can be contentious but the conflict resolution skills I learned at AUT help me predict the outcome of various situations and determine the best course of action.

"Completing workplace experience as part of my degree was one of the highlights for me. For my final-year workplace experience I spent five weeks as a trainee in-house adjuster with a client of my current employer. I developed a greater understanding of the industry and of the practical advantages studying conflict resolution at AUT provides."

Joel Harman

Intelligence Analyst, Inland Revenue
Bachelor of Arts in Criminology

"I'm fascinated by the reasons for criminal behaviour. My ultimate goal was to work in a field where I could contribute to crime prevention. My job involves the production of valuable intelligence reports, and I enjoy the research and analysis aspect immensely. The AUT criminology degree gave me essential skills prior to entering the workforce, especially report writing. The practical experience part of my third year at AUT was a major highlight for me. I spent four weeks attending offender interviews, house visits, community meetings and official meetings with the Ministry of Justice, CYFS and Police. I owe my career to that opportunity."

Employer comment

"We were looking for someone with critical thinking and the ability to learn quickly. We offered Joel a position that was senior to the one he applied for. In this role, you need an understanding of the intelligence lifecycle, and demonstrated or likely strength in technical, academic or relevant experience. The desire to keep self-improving is a big one. His qualifications indicate a desire and ability to apply himself, and learn. They are directly relevant to areas Joel works in, indicating a depth of subject matter expertise. They are also complementary to other, quite different skillsets in the team."

Bachelor of Arts Economics

Economics is vital to the social sciences and public policy. This major covers concepts and frameworks that are essential to understand and address critical economic and social issues.

Economics is about choice; the choices people, companies and governments make every day – from how we respond to price changes to how governments address issues like growing income inequality or climate change. In a world with increasingly scarce resources these decisions are crucial. That's why economists are highly sought after in both the private and public sector.

Bertha Kwan

HR Co-ordinator, Tourism Holdings Limited

Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Human Resource Management and Employment Relations

"I had been told by peers that AUT focuses on experience and practical knowledge. That certainly was the case for me. Every paper, topic or theory was related to real case studies – there was no shortage of examples or experiences I could relate to. I did my workplace experience at Smith and Caughey's HR department, and the experience I gained was immense. I was exposed to recruitment, performance management, disciplinary actions, and training and development. It was a great way to put my psychology and human resources knowledge into practice. Doing case studies and research during my degree widened my perspective, allowing me to see how human resource management has shifted from its traditional form to become a contemporary and strategic business function."

Employer comment

"Bertha is an HR graduate with a couple of years of HR experience and an appetite to learn more and grow her HR career. Having come from working at NZ Police, she had already demonstrated the ability to manage volume and complex HR processes. I was interested in Bertha because she had shown an ability to be innovative and change things when she saw an opportunity."

Bachelor of Business in Market Insights:
Marketing, Advertising, Retailing, Sales
conjoint programmes

"At high school, I had an interest in social studies, history and classical studies. When I was looking at universities, it made sense to study a Bachelor of Arts degree. I then compared what different universities had to offer, and liked AUT's more practical and hands-on approach. In the first year of my Bachelor of Arts, I decided to undertake conjoint programmes and study a business degree alongside my Bachelor of Arts. I was really interested in psychology and the way messages are spread through communities, and studying marketing seemed a great way to explore this further. I enjoy working for CanTeen New Zealand as I get to see the great support from the community, as well as the amazing services CanTeen provides for young people living with cancer."

Conjoint programmes of study: Bachelor of Arts & Bachelor of Business

BA/BBus | AK3002

Give yourself an edge by combining a Bachelor of Business with a Bachelor of Arts, which will help you refine your communication skills and better engage with the community your business operates within. Master of Human Rights student

Bachelor of Arts in Conflict Resolution and Bachelor of Laws

"AUT is my academic home. The staff at the School of Social Sciences and Public Policy are truly special. They engage and care about you on a level that is deeper than at many other schools. You know they genuinely want to work with you to help you reach your goals and achieve the best outcome. I'm now enrolled in the Master of Human Rights because for me, human rights is where law and humanities meet. This degree enables me to use to my skillset in law and arts to challenge myself in diverse and unique ways, with papers and assessments that have real-life applicability. The teaching staff are extremely strong and include lecturers who are known for being leaders in different areas of human rights."

Double degrees: Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws

BA and LLB | AK3704 and AK1008

If you want to make a difference to your community and are interested in law and the legal system, you can combine your Bachelor of Arts with the Bachelor of Laws. It's a great option if you're interested in public policy, policy development, criminology and the legal side of social development. Double degrees are a great way to make your CV stand out to future employers.

If you study the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws as double degrees, you complete the two degrees concurrently in just over five years compared to the seven years it would take if you studied them separately. You enrol in the two programmes that make up the double degrees separately and have to complete all required papers for each degree (core papers and electives).

What these qualifications cover

In each year of your double degrees, you study papers from the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Laws. The course planner on the opposite page will give you an idea of how your double degrees may be structured. The specific papers you complete will depend on your chosen social sciences major.

Career opportunities

Graduates of AUT's Bachelor of Laws are eligible to gain admission as barristers and solicitors of the High Court of New Zealand on completion of their Professional Legal Studies course.

As a lawyer you might practise in a wide range of legal areas including:

- Corporate law
- Commercial and intellectual property
- Family law
- Environmental law
- Criminal law
- Taxation
- General practice

Law graduates also move into roles as policy advisors to central and local government, in-house lawyers in large New Zealand and multinational organisations, patent attorneys, senior management roles in business, and taxation practitioners.

AUT encourages early application. Places are limited.

1. The Bachelor of Arts usually requires 360 points and the Bachelor of Laws 480, however you can cross-credit some papers from each degree and complete the double degrees in less time than it would take to complete each degree separately.
2. Compulsory law papers are also offered at the South Campus. Elective papers are only offered at the City Campus.
3. Bachelor of Arts only. You can only start the Bachelor of Laws in Semester 1.

Hera Foley

Ngāpuhi, Ngāti Raukawa

1st-year student, Bachelor of Arts in Criminology
Certificate in Social Sciences

"When I complete my Bachelor of Arts, I'd like to work for the police for a few years and then complete postgraduate study in forensics. My ultimate career would be forensics print analysis. I enrolled in the Certificate in Social Sciences because it's great preparation for the Bachelor of Arts in Criminology, and I need a criminology degree for my future career. After completing the Certificate in Social Sciences last year, I'm now in the first year of my criminology degree. I enjoyed the Certificate in Social Sciences because the papers I studied enabled me to enhance my researching, writing and literary skills. This prepared me well for the Bachelor of Arts because I wasn't sure how to write university level essays until I studied the certificate. I would definitely recommend this certificate. Studying social sciences has given me the tools to progress further in my studies."

Certificate in Social Sciences

CertSocSc | AK3724

The Certificate in Social Sciences prepares you for further study in the Bachelor of Arts and other qualifications at AUT. Develop your understanding of the social sciences, increase your confidence in a university environment and improve your study skills. The programme can also serve as a foundation for a career in social services, community work and other human services.

Sheetal Naidu

Bachelor of Arts (Honours) student
Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences

"My honours degree research is addressing the issue of domestic violence within New Zealand's immigrant communities. I feel that my research will make a difference within the community because it will highlight and bring awareness to experiences that are often overlooked. As a member of the immigrant community I think it's important to reassure women that they do have support and there is awareness of their experiences. I believe this will be a stepping stone to ending the stigma around abuse and its prevalence in immigrant communities. Throughout my studies at AUT, the academic staff and students have been supportive and encouraging, and I enjoy being around like-minded people. They're creative and they have motivated me to become the person I am today. What I'm most thankful for is that AUT provided me with the foundations to get interested in learning again."

Bachelor of Arts (Honours)

BA(Hons) | AK3696

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) is mainly aimed at high-achieving students in the Bachelor of Arts who want to advance their skills and make their CV stand out. It can also serve as a pathway to advanced research at master's or doctoral level.

Overview of our postgraduate qualifications

Postgraduate Certificate in Arts

Be a positive force in the world, and take your understanding of social sciences further in as little as one semester. Choose from a wide range of papers, and develop your critical thinking, problem-solving and communication skills. These programmes are also a great stepping stone for further postgraduate study.

Master of Human Rights

Make a difference with AUT's new applied Master of Human Rights. This interdisciplinary programme examines contemporary human rights issues in as little as one year. It covers theory and skills related to advocacy, treaty body reporting, human rights campaigns, and media and communication strategies. International experts deliver seminars on subjects like freedom of expression, child rights, gender and women's rights, the internet and human rights, and terrorism. Career opportunities for graduates include human rights work in government, policy agencies, national human rights institutions, and international and national NGOs. The programme is also relevant if you're working in a law or regulatory agency, human rights or education.

Master of Philosophy

Research an area of your interest with this one-year master's degree. It gives you the opportunity to undertake a research project of an applied or professional nature, under the supervision of staff. It can also serve as a pathway to more advanced research at doctoral level.

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy is a thesis-based research degree that leads to advanced academic and theoretical knowledge in a specialist area. The programme enables you to make an original contribution to knowledge or understanding in the field, and meet recognised international standards for such work. You work closely with a supervisor to prepare a thesis, which is then examined by independent experts applying contemporary international standards.

Our areas of research expertise include:

- Gender and sexuality
- Juvenile justice
- Migrants
- Public policy
- Voluntary sector

ACCEPT YOUR OFFER

University admission to AUT bachelor's degrees

For New Zealand citizens and residents and international students studying in a high school in New Zealand

To gain admission to bachelor's degrees, you must have met the requirements for University Entrance plus any specified admission requirements for a programme, such as specific subjects, portfolios and interviews.

For more information on entry requirements, including entry requirements for international students, refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Please note: AUT, like all other New Zealand universities, is required to manage enrolments. This is because of government policies that restrict the number of funded places available for domestic students in tertiary education.

Admission categories

You may be granted University Entrance under one of the following categories:

- NCEA University Entrance
- Ad Eundem Statum admission (at an equivalent level) – this includes Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) and International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IB)
- Discretionary Entrance
- Special Admission

Common University Entrance requirements

| STANDARD | NCEA | CIE | IB ² |
|-----------------|--|--|--|
| Overall | Require NCEA level 3 certificate which consists of 80 credits, including at least 60 credits at level 3 or higher. Can include up to 20 credits at level 2. Note: Credits to achieve NCEA level 3 may include unit standards from non-approved subjects. Subject credits Total of 42 level 3 credits including: • 14 credits from one approved subject • 14 credits from a second approved subject • 14 credits from a third approved subject | A minimum of 120 points on the UCAS Tariff ¹ at A or AS level from an approved list (equivalent to NCEA approved subject list). Must include at least three subjects (excluding Thinking Skills) with grades D or above. | IB Diploma with minimum 24 points |
| Numeracy | At least 10 level 1 (or higher) numeracy credits (can be achieved through a range of subjects) | A minimum grade of D in IGCSE ³ mathematics or any mathematics subject at AS or A level. | Any mathematics subject – IB Group 5 |
| Literacy | Total of 10 level 2 (or higher) literacy credits including: • 5 reading credits • 5 writing credits From specific standards in a range of NZQA English language rich subjects. | A minimum grade of E in English Language and/or English Literature subject at AS or A level. | Literature or language and literature (SL or HL) – IB Group 1, with English as the language. |

1. UCAS (Universities and Colleges Admissions Services for the UK) Tariff = system which converts AS and A level grades into points.

2. New Zealand residents who have taken IB but have not been awarded the Diploma may apply for discretionary entrance.

3. IGCSE = International General Certificate of Secondary Education.

Where programmes require a specific subject, it is expected that a student will have achieved a minimum of 14 credits in that subject (unless indicated otherwise).

NCEA approved subjects

For a list of NCEA approved subjects for University Entrance visit the NZQA website, www.nzqa.govt.nz

AUT language rich subject list

Classical Studies, Drama, English, Geography, Health Education, History, History of Art, Media Studies, Social Studies, Te Reo Māori or Te Reo Rangatira.

Alternative pathways into AUT bachelor's degrees

Students who have just missed University Entrance or did not get into their chosen degree could consider enrolling in one of the foundation studies certificates offered at AUT. Please visit www.aut.ac.nz/apply

Discretionary Entrance

Discretionary Entrance is available to applicants who have attained a high level of achievement in Year 12 and want to undertake university study.

International students can't apply for Discretionary Entrance.

You can apply if you:

- Have not completed Year 13 in a New Zealand secondary school or have done Year 13 but not attempted to gain University Entrance
- Have not otherwise qualified for admission (or have attempted University Entrance)
- Are a domestic student (New Zealand or Australian citizen or permanent resident). If Australian, your most recent schooling must have been in New Zealand
- Are under 20 years of age on the first day of the semester in which you begin study and meet other requirements of the programme for which you apply

People who missed University Entrance in Year 13 may be considered for mid-year admission in the following year.

You can't apply for admission for Semester 1 if you studied in Year 13 after 1 June. However, you can apply for admission into Semester 2.

Minimum academic criteria for Discretionary Entrance

- NCEA level 2 certificate endorsed with minimum of Merit or CIE/IB equivalent
- Minimum of 14 credits in each of four NCEA level 2 (or higher) subjects, at least three of which must be on the approved subject list
- Meet UE literacy and numeracy standards, or their equivalent.

The application is a two-step process. First, you indicate you want to apply through Discretionary Entrance on the standard application form. If you meet the criteria you are sent a second form in which you provide further information and a school recommendation.

The recommendation will provide proof of your maturity, motivation, capability and readiness to undertake degree-level study and also verify that you were not enrolled in Year 13 beyond 1 June in the year prior to admission. Please refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Please note: Applicants are considered on a case-by-case basis and must also meet other selection criteria for the programme for which they have applied. There is a non-refundable assessment fee of $50.00.

Admission at equivalent level (Ad Eundem Statum)

An applicant will be considered for Ad Eundem Statum admission if they:

- Have successfully gained University Entrance through CIE or IB or an approved qualification from a New Zealand secondary school of special character
- Have successfully completed a recognised foundation programme or other recognised tertiary qualification/study of at least 120 points at level 3, or at least 60 points at level 4 in one course of study and have completed Year 13 at a NZ secondary school, or equivalent.
- Have qualifications from an overseas secondary school or tertiary institution deemed by AUT to be sufficient for entry into an undergraduate degree programme.

Please note: Applicants will be required to supply an official academic transcript with their application.

Bursary

If you sat Bursary (prior to 2004) rather than NCEA please refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Special Admission

If you are over 20 years of age you can apply through Special Admission for degree-level study without a University Entrance qualification, if you are a New Zealand citizen or resident. You must be 20 years of age on or before the first day of the semester in which the programme commences. Your ability to succeed in your chosen programme will be taken into consideration.

English language requirements

If you don't have English as your first language, you may have to show evidence of your English language skills.

International students studying at secondary school and applying for University Entrance must achieve UE Literacy through New Zealand secondary school qualifications NCEA, CIE or IB. IELTS can't be substituted.

In all other cases another form of English language testing is required. Minimum IELTS requirements for each programme are included on the relevant pages in this publication. For other recognised English tests and more information, visit www.aut.ac.nz/englishrequirements

International students

Contact us for information regarding studying at AUT if you're not a citizen or permanent resident of New Zealand or Australia, or a citizen of the Cook Islands, Niue or Tokelau islands.

Visit www.aut.ac.nz for entry requirements for specific countries.
