Welcome to Education

We welcome you to the School of Education,
Te Kura Mātauranga.

The School of Education has a reputation for future-focused education, interactive classes, strong partnerships with schools, research-based teaching and learning, the effective use of digital pedagogies and culturally responsive relationships with students.

We value practical skills development where students can gain teaching experience during their initial teacher education qualification. The emphasis on practical skills is also evident in our postgraduate programmes for experienced professionals and leaders.

Our staff are making an ongoing contribution to the local, national and international education communities through research-informed teaching, so that our curriculum is up-to-date with current initiatives and constantly adapts to 21st century learning.

We believe that education is based on three intertwined concepts – being, knowing and doing. These concepts are enacted through:

- Self-knowledge (understanding oneself and one's culture)
- Enquiry (learning, researching and thinking)
- Care and concern (care for self, others and our environment)

We look forward to sharing your education journey with you and hope that it will be the beginning of a very rewarding career.

WHY STUDY EDUCATION?

of professional practice - many of our students are offered jobs
during their placements

Expert lecturers in specialist education disciplines and education research

AUT graduates agree that their work placement empowers them to work in their chosen industry

1 AUT North Campus provides ample space for socialising and studying 2 Our graduates find rewarding careers across the education sector (pictured: primary teaching alumna Ellie Hunt) 3 You can also study our education programmes at the AUT South Campus in Manukau

Future-oriented education

Today's educators will determine the world we live in tomorrow. In the digitised world of the future, mastering existing knowledge will no longer be enough. Students will need to learn to use knowledge to solve new, unexpected problems, and collaborate with other people with different knowledge. To build the ability to do these things, we need schools – and teachers – that are different from those we have now. At AUT, we create responsive teachers prepared for these challenges.

Widely recognised qualifications

Study with us and you join a university with future-focused teaching, an engaging learning environment that embraces people and ideas, and programmes designed for rewarding careers. QS World University Rankings place AUT in the top 2% of universities worldwide, and our education programmes are in the top 300 in the world.

Creating career-ready graduates

At AUT you'll not only learn academic knowledge related to your programme, but also gain practical teaching experience. Our Bachelor of Education includes 22 weeks of workplace experience, and our one-year programmes include 15 weeks. For your placements you join an early childhood centre or primary school, and experience the classroom and the role of the teacher for yourself. Our Bachelor of Arts in Education students complete a final-year work placement that prepares them to influence change in the education sector. Many of our students are also offered jobs during these placements.

Passionate and experienced staff

Our experienced lecturers are passionate about learning and teaching, and constantly draw on their own experience in the classroom. They have research expertise in a wide range of areas, including teacher education, early childhood education, curriculum development, education theory and practice, adult and tertiary education, e-learning, literacy and numeracy development.

Big-hearted and diverse

Our students come from a variety of backgrounds, and you find all the support, encouragement and inspiration you need. We offer some of the most comprehensive student services and support in New Zealand, but you find care and support beyond these services – in conversations with lecturers, group work with classmates and in the many campus events. They're all reasons why 9 out of 10 AUT graduates recommend us as a great place to study.

Useful online resources

Watch your professional growth throughout your studies through our electronic portfolios. Blogs, discussion forums and other uploaded material create an interactive online learning environment where you can see your progress and teaching achievements, access course material and showcase your work.

University life

As an AUT student you study at a modern and innovative university, and have the chance to meet new people and develop lifelong skills, while getting the support you need to succeed at university and beyond.

At AUT, we celebrate diversity. Our students come from more than 140 different countries, and we have the second largest number of international students of New Zealand's universities. Join us, and you'll quickly learn how inclusive and caring our community is.

We offer some of the most comprehensive student support services in New Zealand, including:

- Orientation for all new students
- Student Hub – with dedicated advisors to help with any issue
- Accommodation on campus
- AuSM – AUT student association and clubs
- International student support
- Sport and fitness centres
- Childcare centres
- Māori student support
- Pacific student support
- Chinese-speaking student support
- Disability student support and resources
- Employability and careers support
- Student medical centres
- Counselling and mental health services
- IT support and computer labs
- Library and student learning services
- Rainbow community network and resources
- Student financial services and scholarships office

Creating career-ready graduates

The AUT Employability and Careers team helps you plan in advance for your future career by developing job search and interview skills, while building your personal brand and networking skills. We'll also introduce you to employers looking to recruit AUT graduates.

Gain an edge on the competition

The AUT Edge Award challenges, rewards and formally acknowledges the 'C skills' – collaboration, co-operation, community, curiosity, communication and creativity – gained through your volunteering, leadership and employability activities.

International study opportunities

An international student exchange offers an amazing opportunity to study overseas as part of your degree. Study for a semester or a year at one of our partner universities around the world, and immerse yourself in another culture, make lifelong friends and get international experience before you graduate.

Not available for the Bachelor of Education ([Specialty] Teaching).

Helping you succeed

Our library and learning support team offers a wide range of services and resources, including access to an extensive collection of print and online databases, as well as workshops to help you get a head start on your studies. Drop in any time, we're happy to help any way we can.

Easy to get help

The AUT Student Hub is the place to go for help. Located on each campus, the Student Hub provides a range of services, from academic or personal advice to questions about fees and support for our diverse student communities.

Support for first-year students

Studying at university can be quite an adjustment.

That's why AUT is proactive in helping you transition to university life. From Orientation to our peer mentoring programme where senior students share their experience with you, our student support services make a huge difference to life as a first-year student.

Top internships around the world

A good internship can be the foundation of a great career. That's why AUT Internz places students and graduates with top companies in NZ, Canada and the USA – including Facebook, Paramount Recording Studios, the Sundance Institute, Oxfam, the Metropolitan Museum and Westpac Institutional Bank in New York.

A launchpad for entrepreneurs

Every entrepreneur starts somewhere. At AUT, the best place for aspiring entrepreneurs is CO.STARTERS@AUT. This nine-week programme helps you turn your entrepreneurial ideas into a viable business.

An outstanding learning environment

At AUT you study in an innovative and interactive environment that embraces creativity, collaboration and the sharing of ideas and culture. A number of our buildings have won prestigious architecture awards, and we're constantly improving our built environment to offer students the best possible learning experience.

Ashton Johnston

Year 7 and 8 Teacher, Mangere East Primary School
Bachelor of Education
(Primary Pasifika)

"When I was looking at where to study, AUT stood out for its smaller, interactive classes as opposed to other tertiary institutes where you have a small desk space in a lecture hall. I knew I'd be able to focus much easier instead of constantly feeling confined. When I came to AUT for my selection interview, the lecturers were genuine and I immediately felt comfortable asking questions and being honest. I truly think AUT's academics are awesome – they remember your name, they genuinely care and they know their stuff. I decided to specialise in Pasifika teaching as there is a big focus on relationships. Learning can't happen if the students can't relate, and as a teacher I want to be able to relate to all my students."

Bachelor of Education ([Specialty] Teaching)

Overview continued

Nick Batley

Head Teacher, Kids Cove
Early Learning Centre
Bachelor of Education
(Early Childhood Teaching)

"The joy I see on a child's face when they're learning something new is what I enjoy most about teaching young children. I believe early childhood education is really important for the socialisation of children. They're making friends, sharing, communicating and learning how to respond.

"As head teacher, my day is busy and includes supporting the children with morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea, as well as multiple care routines. Each teacher has key children that they take care of. However all teachers, through communication, support each other throughout the day.

"Challenging behaviour isn't hard to manage. There is usually a reason why some children are challenging, so we teach the children to problem solve and give them a chance to calm down. I was always a bit of a clown at school and I find I use my humour a lot in my teaching. I also love playing the ukulele and getting involved in practical things with the children."

Year 3

You will continue your studies with 120 points (8 papers) in the following areas and have options to choose topics you wish to pursue in greater depth:

- Professional practice
- Studies in education (inclusive education)
- Mainstream or Pasifika specialty

Primary Teaching

Turn your passion for educating children between 5 and 12 years into a career in primary or intermediate teaching. As a graduate of this programme you'll have the understanding, skills and academic requirements to be a primary teacher. You'll be eligible to apply for provisional registration with the Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand.

Year 1

You complete 120 points (8 papers) across the following areas:

Professional practice

- Work experience
- Role of teachers
- Professional ethics
- Asking appropriate questions for learning
- Motivating and engaging children

Teaching the curriculum

- English
- Mathematics I
- Science

Studies in education

- History of New Zealand education
- Human development
- Sociology
- Te reo Māori

Year 2

You complete 120 papers (8 papers) across the following areas:

Professional practice

- Work experience
- Your personal teacher identity
- Working with challenging behaviour
- Instructional strategies
- Resilience
- Relationships
- Risk management
- Individual and professional identity

Teaching the curriculum

- Health and physical education
- Mathematics II
- Reading
- Social sciences
- Technology

Ellie Hunt

Primary School Teacher, Parakai School
Bachelor of Education
(Primary Teaching)

"This career brings constant rewards and challenges and that ongoing learning keeps me excited about teaching. I always knew that teaching was a career where I could help children to reach their full potential and now I'm doing that every day.

"The workplace experience throughout my study at AUT was pivotal not only to securing a job I love, but to experiencing a range of different settings. I taught students from different year levels and deciles on each practicum. Our co-ordinator did a wonderful job in providing a range of placements and happily arranged an out-of-town practicum for me.

"I liked the fact that AUT had a range of relevant papers that reflected the latest strategies and ideas that are implemented in New Zealand schools. The lecturers were highly approachable and had a genuine care for my success as an undergraduate teacher. The connections and friendships I made at AUT were invaluable."

1. Also known as Ministry of Education Early Childhood Education Curriculum

Leanne Mato

Ngāti Porou, Whānau a Apanui
Teacher, Northcote Central Kindergarten
Bachelor of Education
(Early Childhood Teaching)

"I teach a group of forty children between the ages of three and five, and working with the children is what I love most about my role. I'm also lucky enough to work with a fun, committed team of teachers who share similar philosophies.

"I discovered my passion for teaching after working in sales and marketing for many years. We returned to New Zealand with our two young children after living in the UK for 12 years. I had helped at their nursery school and found I loved it.

"During my three-year AUT degree I completed five teaching practicums, including a placement at Northcote Central Kindergarten where I now work. The AUT lecturers were amazing – so supportive, inspiring and knowledgeable. I also made some lifelong friends during my studies and learned not just what it takes to be a great teacher but also a lot about myself.

"Besides all the theory I learned, I'm using the skills I developed at AUT in terms of assessment for children's learning and a deep understanding of Te Whāriki, our ECE curriculum framework. I would say that every paper I took at AUT is relevant to my job and has meant that I've been able to hit the ground running."

Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood Teaching) Mainstream

This specialty is designed for students who want to work as an early childhood teacher in a mainstream early childhood centre. You'll continue to develop your understanding of early childhood education and the early childhood teaching national curriculum, Te Whāriki.

Teaching placements

All students need to complete a number of teaching placements in a diverse range of practicum centres (as prescribed by the Education Council). The centres are mainly based in Auckland and include early childhood education and full daycare centres, kindergartens and community-based preschool facilities.

As part of your placements you work with children from 0–5 years in different settings over your three years of study. For many students this workplace experience is the highlight of the degree.

During your placements you learn to:

- Reflect on your practice
- Document children's learning
- Work effectively as a member of the teaching team
- Recognise how the theory you're learning is helping you understand your role as a student teacher in supporting children's learning in all aspects of the early childhood education curriculum Te Whāriki and the New Zealand National Curriculum
- Plan a range of learning experiences
- Support the physical and emotional needs of children
- Integrate te reo Māori into your teaching

Career opportunities

- Teaching in a mainstream early childhood centre
- With experience, management of an early childhood centre

AUT encourages early application. Places are limited.

Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood Teaching) Pasifika

There's a growing need for more qualified early childhood teachers who have an understanding of Pacific perspectives on education. This specialty is designed for people of all ethnic backgrounds who have an interest in Pacific early childhood centres or teaching Pacific children in mainstream centres.

You develop the skills, knowledge and understanding to be an effective teacher working with Pacific children.

Teaching placements

All students need to complete a number of teaching placements in a diverse range of practicum centres (as prescribed by the Education Council). The centres are mainly based in Auckland and include Pacific Island language nests, early childhood education and full daycare centres, kindergartens, community-based preschool facilities with a focus on Pacific teaching settings.

As part of your placements you work with children from 0–5 years in different settings over your three years of study. For many students this workplace experience is the highlight of the degree.

During your placements you learn to:

- Reflect on your practice
- Document children's learning
- Work effectively as a member of the teaching team
- Recognise how the theory you're learning is helping you understand your role as a student teacher in supporting children's learning in all aspects of the early childhood education curriculum Te Whāriki and the New Zealand National Curriculum

Whitinga Harris

Ngāpuhi, Ngai Tuteauru, Tainui
2nd-year student, Bachelor of Education
(Primary Teaching)

"I chose this degree to make a difference and to be the change for our rangatahi. I wanted a career where I could be actively involved in the shaping of tomorrow's leaders. I'm very interested in primary teaching but I can also see that policy writing around education would be an interesting career too.

"It shows when the lecturers are passionate about their area of expertise. One of my lecturers said that teaching boils down to just caring, and this statement emotionally moved half of the students that day and made them feel a real connection to the content.

"I've been impressed by the education staff, from the welcoming administration staff to the lecturers and the management team. The staff really go out of their way to help you succeed. Like many students I've encountered a few challenges throughout my studies, but the lecturers always advised me on who I should see to rectify the issue or what I should do.

"I've really enjoyed the sense of whanaungatanga that is present throughout AUT's School of Education. I believe this is essential to help foster a community that enjoys a challenge, and there's an ample amount of support to fall back on if you ever need it."

Bachelor of Education (Primary Teaching) Mainstream

If you want to become a mainstream primary or intermediate school teacher, this specialty provides you with the skills to teach in mainstream primary teaching settings. The papers are designed for students who have a passion for working with children between 5 and 12 years in mainstream primary and intermediate schools.

Teaching placements

All students need to complete a number of teaching placements in a diverse range of practicum settings (as prescribed by the Education Council). During your placements you work with children between 5 and 12 years in a variety of primary and intermediate schools. This workplace experience helps you become an effective, responsive and reflective teacher and achieve the Education Council Graduating Teacher Standards.

You learn to:

- Work effectively as a member of the teaching team
- Reflect on your practice
- Establish positive relationships with members of the learning community
- Respect diversity
- Develop teaching practices responsive to the needs of the learner
- Recognise how the theory you're learning is helping you understand your role as a student teacher in supporting children's learning

For many students this workplace experience is the highlight of the degree.

Career opportunities

- Teaching in a mainstream primary or intermediate school

- Teaching in mainstream primary or intermediate schools, centres, particularly those with a high percentage of Pacific students

AUT encourages early application. Places are limited.

Ezra Feau

Year 5 and 6 Teacher, Puhinui School
Bachelor of Education (Primary Pasifika)

"Teaching is the most rewarding occupation. I love it when I overhear a student teaching someone else what I've just taught them in class. That's reciprocal learning and when it flows in the class it really is something special. Everyone can feed off one another and we're all helping one another learn, like a big aiga (family). It's such a rewarding feeling.

"I had heard that at AUT you have more opportunities to talk to your lecturers, but it was much more than that. We had a test before we started our degree and Ross Bernay – the head of the teacher education department – stood at the door, shook our hand and welcomed us in. He addressed me by name and got to know me. It showed that they actually cared who I was. It was an inclusive and culturally responsive environment that I highly recommend.

"As part of my studies I completed six teaching practicums. We had to have one placement in each year group, and our placements covered a high decile, a middle decile and a low decile school. It gives you such a range of teaching experiences."

Bachelor of Arts Education [BA | AK3704]

QUICK FACTS

Level:	7
Points:	360
Duration:	3 years F/T, P/T available
Campus:	City & South
Starts:	25 Feb & 15 July 2019

KEY FEATURES:

- A great choice if you're interested in education but not sure you want to be a teacher
- Tailor your degree to your career aspirations
- Includes workplace experience in Year 3

SEE YOURSELF AS:

- Interested in the potential of education
- Someone who wants to think for themselves
- Engaged, curious and inquiring

Interested in learning and how it relates to culture, community, social media and social justice? We've all been to school and probably all have a view on education. The Bachelor of Arts in Education re-examines these views.

It's a great pathway for a number of careers in fields involved in education policy or strategic development, or for further study to become a teacher. Because this major is part of the Bachelor of Arts, it's easy to combine it with many other aspects of society and culture. Choose from majors in areas as diverse as education, social sciences, psychology, international studies, Māori development, event management or languages. You can build your degree in a way that suits you – study either one or two majors, select from a wide range of minors or perhaps add elective papers from another area of study.

Entry requirements

Minimum entry requirements

University Entrance or equivalent.

Preferred New Zealand school subjects

All subjects are useful, in particular Classical Studies, English, Geography, History, History of Art, Media Studies and other languages.

English language requirements

IELTS (Academic) 6.0 overall with all bands 5.5 or higher; or equivalent.

What this qualification covers

Core papers

Throughout your degree you take core Bachelor of Arts papers:

- Academic Communication: Conventions and Expectations
- Culture and Society
- Knowledge and Inquiry
- Work Integrated Learning

You usually complete two or three core papers in Year 1, plus papers for your major (usually two or three) and other papers of interest. In your second year you complete the other one or two core papers, along with more major papers. Your final semester includes valuable workplace experience (through the Work Integrated Learning paper) in an organisation related to your major.

Education papers

The Education major papers are organised into two strands.

Sociological focus:

- Critical Questions in Education
- Education, Resistance and Social Justice
- Exploring the Horizons in Education

You examine aspects of education in the past and how they relate to today's education issues. You also consider the future of education and how the way we learn in the future could be very different from today.

Cultural focus:

- Places and Learning
- Learning, Diversity and Culture
- Educational Psychology
- Contemporary Philosophies of Education
- Alternatives in Education

You consider how place affects who we are and what we learn. You also examine learning in different cultures and communities, learning through social media and the 'big picture' of education.

Career opportunities

The skills you develop in this major are valuable for a range of careers, including social development work, youth and community work, communications, human resources, the arts, training and mentoring and other education-related work in government and non-governmental organisations. It's also good preparation for further study, which could lead to teacher registration.

Course planner

The Bachelor of Arts is made up of 360 points. It is made up of the following components: core papers, a major and electives. You can either choose a single or a double major. The size of the second major may impact on the number of elective papers you take.

SINGLE MAJOR						360 points
Core papers 45 points	+	Education major 120 points	+	Minor 60 points	+	Electives 105 points	+	Work Integrated Learning 30 points

DOUBLE MAJOR						360 points

Huge opportunities for workplace experience and international study exchanges

Qurrat Ul Ain Memon

3rd-year student, Bachelor of Arts in Education

"I've always been interested in education, and I chose this degree because it opens the doors to many opportunities to seek knowledge and obtain a quality education. I chose AUT for its impressive reputation as a young university. I liked that through the Bachelor of Arts in Education I can learn about different educational theories and philosophies, and I loved being able to include a minor in social sciences as part of my degree. This has added immensely to my knowledge. Studying at AUT has enabled me to think critically and outside the box, and I feel that the freedom to select electives from a range of disciplines has truly diversified my knowledge. The degree enables you to explore different disciplines and can also set you on the path to pursue teaching as a career."

Daryl Young

Ngāruahine Rangī, Ngāti Kahungunu, Samoan

2nd-year student, Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood Teaching)
Certificate in Early Childhood Education

"Seeing children learn and accomplish something new, especially when it's something that they think they can't do, makes teaching young children all worthwhile. I would love to be an early childhood teacher when I graduate, in particular working with children under the age of two. That's my real passion. AUT's education programmes are perfect if you prefer smaller class sizes, which means there's more opportunity for you to have one on one discussions with your lecturers and get to know them. All my lecturers have been approachable and able to provide me with help when it was needed because they know my weaknesses as well as my strengths. They encourage you to do the best you can do, to the best of your ability."

Certificate in [Specialty] Education

Cert[Specialty]Ed | AK1275

Gain the confidence and skills to work with children and support the qualified teaching staff in an early childhood centre or as a teacher aide in a primary school. The Certificate in [Specialty] Education covers the initial theory and practice relevant to primary, early childhood or early childhood Pacific settings. Students who complete this certificate may be eligible to enter the second year of the Bachelor of Education.

Carla Boniolo

English Teacher, Westlake Boys' High School
Graduate Diploma in Secondary Teaching

"In our cohort we only had 25 students training to be teachers, and the smaller and interactive classes made such a difference to my studies. I also loved that the assignments were meaningful and relevant. All students complete three teaching placements. Through my placements I could experience a diverse range of schools all over Auckland, and have been privileged to teach in both high and low decile schools. The placements were so valuable and nicely complemented the theory we learned in class. The placements help you develop your identity as a teacher and network with teachers at a variety of schools. My supervising teachers were highly supportive and let me take over their classes within my first week on placement. One of them also provided me with a reference, which helped me secure my first teaching job."

Overview of our postgraduate qualifications

Bachelor of Arts (Honours)

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) is mainly aimed at high-achieving students in the Bachelor of Arts who want to advance their skills and make their CV stand out. It can also serve as a pathway to advanced research at master's or doctoral level.

Postgraduate Diploma in Education & Postgraduate Certificate in Education

Educators from all sectors can study education at an advanced level through the Postgraduate Certificate and Postgraduate Diploma in Education. Both programmes consist of papers from the Master of Education, and can prepare you for further study at master's level. You develop advanced knowledge and critical analysis skills in the field of education. You're encouraged to develop a cross-disciplinary approach to your studies and apply your knowledge to a wide range of issues and contexts within education.

Master of Education

The Master of Education encourages you to develop advanced knowledge and critical analysis skills. It's designed for professionals from all education sectors – early childhood education, compulsory education, adult and tertiary education and non-formal education. You can specialise in a specific area of education but are encouraged to develop a cross-disciplinary approach to your studies.

You complete the Master of Education with papers and a:

- Full-year 120-point research thesis or
- 90-point research thesis or
- 60-point dissertation

Master of Education Practice

Do you work as a trainer or educator in a formal or informal setting? Whether you're a professional educator in a museum or gallery, or a registered teacher, this programme enables you to explore education through the lens of your experience. The Master of Education Practice links theory to practice across the diverse field of education. Its strengths lie in its ability to respond to the policy and socio-political impacts on education in New Zealand, its focus on cultural diversity and the ongoing critical inquiry into practice.

Master of Educational Leadership & Postgraduate Certificate in Educational Leadership

The Master of Educational Leadership and Postgraduate Certificate in Educational Leadership are designed for experienced educators and leaders who want to enhance their knowledge and professional practice skills. Throughout this programme, you further your leadership skills, and will be prepared for leadership roles in educational organisations from the early childhood to tertiary sectors, government and corporate settings. The programme covers educational leadership issues in the early childhood, compulsory and tertiary educational sectors. You critically examine the implications of educational challenges for leaders in educational settings. There's a focus on the context and purposes of leadership within a global perspective, as well as in terms of professional practices in New Zealand.

Master of Teaching and Learning (Primary)

The Master of Teaching and Learning (Primary) is suitable if you have a bachelor's degree in any field and want to become a teacher. If you graduate with a Master of Teaching and Learning (Primary) you will be eligible to apply for provisional registration with the Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand. You will be able to teach in a primary or intermediate classroom or could continue onto doctoral study by completing an additional research methodologies paper at master's level. This one-year professional qualification has four main themes: becoming a responsive and resilient teacher, working in partnership with schools, learning adaptive teaching and equipping you with a future-oriented focus.

Doctor of Education

The Doctor of Education is aimed at education professionals who want to extend their professional and academic knowledge of educational practices and issues. It consists of two parts: a research portfolio and a thesis. You undertake advanced study and independent research of an educational phenomenon, issue or topic relevant to professional practice. You apply advanced theoretical concepts for the investigation of professional practice in a wide range of domains, including educational leadership, teacher effectiveness, curriculum development, lifelong learning, research and professional expertise. The programme is structured to support you as you pursue an original piece of research relevant to a specific area within education.

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy is a thesis-based research degree that leads to advanced academic and theoretical knowledge in a specialist area. The programme enables you to make an original contribution to knowledge or understanding in the field, and meet recognised international standards for such work. You work closely with a supervisor to prepare a thesis, which is then examined by independent experts applying contemporary international standards.

University admission to AUT bachelor's degrees

For New Zealand citizens and residents and international students studying in a high school in New Zealand

To gain admission to bachelor's degrees, you must have met the requirements for University Entrance plus any specified admission requirements for a programme, such as specific subjects, portfolios and interviews.

For more information on entry requirements, including entry requirements for international students, refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Please note: AUT, like all other New Zealand universities, is required to manage enrolments. This is because of government policies that restrict the number of funded places available for domestic students in tertiary education.

Admission categories

You may be granted University Entrance under one of the following categories:

- NCEA University Entrance
- Ad Eundem Statum admission (at an equivalent level) – this includes Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) and International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IB)
- Discretionary Entrance
- Special Admission

Common University Entrance requirements

STANDARD	NCEA	CIE	IB ²
Overall	Require NCEA level 3 certificate which consists of 80 credits, including at least 60 credits at level 3 or higher. Can include up to 20 credits at level 2. Note: Credits to achieve NCEA level 3 may include unit standards from non-approved subjects. Subject credits Total of 42 level 3 credits including: • 14 credits from one approved subject • 14 credits from a second approved subject • 14 credits from a third approved subject	A minimum of 120 points on the UCAS Tariff ¹ at A or AS level from an approved list (equivalent to NCEA approved subject list). Must include at least three subjects (excluding Thinking Skills) with grades D or above.	IB Diploma with minimum 24 points
Numeracy	At least 10 level 1 (or higher) numeracy credits (can be achieved through a range of subjects)	A minimum grade of D in IGCSE ³ mathematics or any mathematics subject at AS or A level.	Any mathematics subject – IB Group 5
Literacy	Total of 10 level 2 (or higher) literacy credits including: • 5 reading credits • 5 writing credits From specific standards in a range of NZQA English language rich subjects.	A minimum grade of E in English Language and/or English Literature subject at AS or A level.	Literature or language and literature (SL or HL) – IB Group 1, with English as the language.

1. UCAS (Universities and Colleges Admissions Services for the UK) Tariff = system which converts AS and A level grades into points.

2. New Zealand residents who have taken IB but have not been awarded the Diploma may apply for discretionary entrance.

3. IGCSE = International General Certificate of Secondary Education.

Where programmes require a specific subject, it is expected that a student will have achieved a minimum of 14 credits in that subject (unless indicated otherwise).

NCEA approved subjects

For a list of NCEA approved subjects for University Entrance visit the NZQA website, www.nzqa.govt.nz

AUT language rich subject list

Classical Studies, Drama, English, Geography, Health Education, History, History of Art, Media Studies, Social Studies, Te Reo Māori or Te Reo Rangatira.

Alternative pathways into AUT bachelor's degrees

Students who have just missed University Entrance or did not get into their chosen degree could consider enrolling in one of the foundation studies certificates offered at AUT. Please visit www.aut.ac.nz/apply

Discretionary Entrance

Discretionary Entrance is available to applicants who have attained a high level of achievement in Year 12 and want to undertake university study.

International students can't apply for Discretionary Entrance.

You can apply if you:

- Have not completed Year 13 in a New Zealand secondary school or have done Year 13 but not attempted to gain University Entrance
- Have not otherwise qualified for admission (or have attempted University Entrance)
- Are a domestic student (New Zealand or Australian citizen or permanent resident). If Australian, your most recent schooling must have been in New Zealand
- Are under 20 years of age on the first day of the semester in which you begin study and meet other requirements of the programme for which you apply

People who missed University Entrance in Year 13 may be considered for mid-year admission in the following year.

You can't apply for admission for Semester 1 if you studied in Year 13 after 1 June. However, you can apply for admission into Semester 2.

Minimum academic criteria for Discretionary Entrance

- NCEA level 2 certificate endorsed with minimum of Merit or CIE/IB equivalent
- Minimum of 14 credits in each of four NCEA level 2 (or higher) subjects, at least three of which must be on the approved subject list
- Meet UE literacy and numeracy standards, or their equivalent.

The application is a two-step process. First, you indicate you want to apply through Discretionary Entrance on the standard application form. If you meet the criteria you are sent a second form in which you provide further information and a school recommendation.

The recommendation will provide proof of your maturity, motivation, capability and readiness to undertake degree-level study and also verify that you were not enrolled in Year 13 beyond 1 June in the year prior to admission. Please refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Please note: Applicants are considered on a case-by-case basis and must also meet other selection criteria for the programme for which they have applied. There is a non-refundable assessment fee of $50.00.

Admission at equivalent level (Ad Eundem Statum)

An applicant will be considered for Ad Eundem Statum admission if they:

- Have successfully gained University Entrance through CIE or IB or an approved qualification from a New Zealand secondary school of special character
- Have successfully completed a recognised foundation programme or other recognised tertiary qualification/ study of at least 120 points at level 3, or at least 60 points at level 4 in one course of study and have completed Year 13 at a NZ secondary school, or equivalent.
- Have qualifications from an overseas secondary school or tertiary institution deemed by AUT to be sufficient for entry into an undergraduate degree programme.

Please note: Applicants will be required to supply an official academic transcript with their application.

Bursary

If you sat Bursary (prior to 2004) rather than NCEA please refer to the AUT Calendar or visit www.aut.ac.nz/calendar

Special Admission

If you are over 20 years of age you can apply through Special Admission for degree-level study without a University Entrance qualification, if you are a New Zealand citizen or resident. You must be 20 years of age on or before the first day of the semester in which the programme commences. Your ability to succeed in your chosen programme will be taken into consideration.

English language requirements

If you don't have English as your first language, you may have to show evidence of your English language skills.

International students studying at secondary school and applying for University Entrance must achieve UE Literacy through New Zealand secondary school qualifications NCEA, CIE or IB. IELTS can't be substituted.

In all other cases another form of English language testing is required. Minimum IELTS requirements for each programme are included on the relevant pages in this publication. For other recognised English tests and more information, visit www.aut.ac.nz/englishrequirements

International students

Contact us for information regarding studying at AUT if you're not a citizen or permanent resident of New Zealand or Australia, or a citizen of the Cook Islands, Niue or Tokelau islands.

Visit www.aut.ac.nz for entry requirements for specific countries.

Fees & scholarships

Cost is an important factor when thinking about university study. This page gives you an idea of the approximate tuition fees at AUT, and different options to help you fund your education including scholarships, student loans and allowances.

To give you an idea of approximate costs, the 2018 tuition fees are shown below (based on full-time study and completing 120 points a year). All fees are in NZ dollars and include GST. The 2019 tuition fees will be advertised on www.aut.ac.nz/fees as soon as they have been set.

Domestic student fees

First-time domestic students are entitled to one year of fees free.

Undergraduate programmes

Fee (per year)	Approximately $6,000.00-$6,845.00 ¹
----------------	--

1. Part-time students pay a proportion of the fee based on the number of academic points they are studying.

International student fees

Undergraduate programmes

Fee (per year)	Approximately NZ$27,540.00
----------------	-----------------------------

Other fees you may have to pay:

- 2018 Compulsory Student Services Fee – $627.10 for 120 points or $5.23 per academic point
- 2018 Building Levy – $69.60 for 120 points or $0.58 per academic point
