World-class teaching and research

AUT is internationally recognised for its excellence in research and teaching and is placed among the top universities in the world in QS and Times Higher Education rankings. Times Higher Education has ranked AUT as one of the best young universities, ranked 40th in the world based on the quality of our teaching, research, citations, international outlook and industry income.

An investment in your future

Graduates of our postgraduate research programmes are carving out successful careers in both business and academic worlds. Through your studies you will build specialist knowledge in a specific field of business. You will also develop high levels of research, critical thinking and other transferable skills that help you stand out in the highly competitive employment market.

A chance to explore an area of your interest

As part of your postgraduate research degree, you complete an independent research thesis or dissertation in an area of your interest, supervised by a member of academic staff who is an expert in the field. By undertaking your own research, you can make an impact and contribute original knowledge relevant to your field of study and employment.

A research community making a difference

AUT Business School is home to world-class researchers engaged in research of both local and global relevance. We prioritise research that matters and academic staff are increasingly undertaking research that delivers positive social impact.

Specialisations

You can study one of eight available specialisations:

- Accounting
- Economics
- Finance
- Information Systems
- International Business
- Management
- Marketing
- Sport Leadership and Management

Scholarships

High achieving applicants can apply for scholarships to undertake postgraduate research programmes such as the Bachelor of Business (Honours) and Master of Business. Scholarships are also available for Doctor of Philosophy applicants.

Our students

Thanaphone Thongmanivong

Procurement Associate, United Nations Office for Project Services (UNOPS), Vientiane, Laos

Master of Business in Management

Thanaphone Thongmanivong
came to AUT as an international student from Laos and highly recommends the Master of Business.

"The programme offers a perfect balance of theoretical foundations and hands-on learning experiences."

For her Master of Business research, Thanaphone examined passion in the context of entrepreneurship.

Julie Sandilands

Co-owner, The Dance
Domain & Writers' Café
Auckland

Master of Business in Economics

Julie Sandilands enjoyed being able to research a topic of interest for her master's degree.

She would highly recommend postgraduate study in economics to other students.

"I enjoyed my dissertation a lot. Working intensely on a specific topic, while getting feedback and being told to go further by your supervisor, is a unique opportunity to do effective research..."

Kai Schaedlich

Doctor of Philosophy
candidate

Bachelor of Business
(Honours)

Bachelor of Business in Information Systems

How will the rise of flexible working arrangements and work-based social media collaboration tools impact work practices? That's the interesting topic Kai Schaedlich is exploring for his PhD in information systems.

"I had never dreamt of doing a PhD, and before that I had never dreamt of doing postgraduate study and writing a whole dissertation in English, which is my second language. The information systems lecturers and staff from the postgraduate office have been extremely encouraging throughout this journey, and helped me go further and climb the next mountain."

Nafiz Ul Fahad

Nafiz has always dreamt of being a part of the academic community.
He came to AUT as an international student from Bangladesh to study a PhD in accounting.

"Joining the doctorate programme at AUT is just like putting the final piece of the puzzle into place."

"I'd highly recommend the PhD to prospective accounting students because AUT provides an excellent learning environment for students who want to build their future in academia..."

General tips

- Taking the Applied Project option instead of Co-operative Education while completing the BBus will hone your research skills and prepare you for the BBus(Hons) and MBus.
- If you meet StudyLink's eligibility criteria, StudyLink will provide student allowances and loans for BBus(Hons) students, and student living costs and loans for all other postgraduate programmes.

BBus(Hons) tips:

- BBus students can complete Co-operative Education after completing the BBus(Hons) and graduate with both degrees together (BBus and BBus(Hons)).
- Completion of BBus(Hons) with first-class honours can also provide direct entry to the PhD.
- Students can progress from the GradDipBus/GradCertBus to the BBus(Hons) (subject to approval).

MBus tips:

- Students can progress from the BBus, GradCertBus/GradDipBus, BBus(Hons), MBA and Professional Masters to the MBus if they meet the MBus entry criteria.
- Completion of the MBus with upper second-class honours or higher may provide direct entry to the PhD.
